

Wisconsin Badger Army Ammunition Plant

Facility and Location

Badger AAP (BAAP), formerly Badger Ordnance Works, is 35 miles northwest of Madison in Sauk County. It produced propellants for WWII, Korea, and Vietnam, and was inactive during periods in between. Production ended in 1975 and BAAP was declared excess in 1998. Environmental cleanup and infrastructure removal is underway and land will be turned over to other agencies.

Media Sampled and Findings

Groundwater — Prior to 2007, ten samples taken at BAAP-33 propellant burning ground reported no detection. Sites were selected by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources.

Appropriate Actions

Not Applicable. All samples were below the EPA and DoD Preliminary Remediation Goal of 15 ppb.
